Written by Marco Attard
12 October 2017

The board of Nordic reseller Dustin chooses Thomas Ekman as new president and CEO, a position he will assume from 1 January 2018. He succeeds Georgi Ganev, who leaves the position by end 2017.

Ekman joins Dustin from the Cabonline Group, where he was CEO. Previous to that he was CEO of Tele 2, and is currently a member of the Com Hem board.

"With his experience of running complex businesses and building digital brands Thomas is the right person to lead Dustin’s continued development in the Nordic market and in line with our strategy," Dustin board chairman Fredrik Cappelen says. "He combines a strong leadership and a strong customer focus with deep knowledge within online. We are very happy that Thomas has chosen to be a part of Dustin’s continued journey of growth."

Go Thomas Ekman New President and CEO of Dustin