Toshiba launches VIPedge-- a scalable cloud-based telephone solution designed for organisations wanting a unified communication system without the need for an onsite system.

The service is available as a per-user subscription.

It is compatible with Toshiba's IPedge and phones (including IP5000 desk phones and IP4100 wireless handsets), and allows migration to an on-premises system once the organisation grows.

Features include unified communications (via Toshiba Call Manager), click-to-dial presence, IM, CRM program integration (Salesforce.com, Act! and Outlook), mobile functionality and optional international calling plans.
