NEC announces Univerge 3C-- a united communications (UC) solution enabling secure communications anywhere, anytime with a common user experience across "any device or environment."

NEC Empowered by Innovation

The solution delivers IP-PBX, a set of voice features and UC and collaboration applications one can tailor to specific business needs.

The software operates across premise, cloud or hybrid cloud and provides web-oriented UC tools through a single application platform. It makes use of existing enterprise web and security infrastructure and supports the BYOD trend by working with enterprise security credentials.
