Cisco unveils its new Prosumer Video solution which integrates Cisco FocalPoint, an online video workspace with a business-class Cisco Flip MinoPRO camcorder.

Cisco says the Flip MinoPRO Camcorder combines the easy-to-use features of the consumer Flip Video Camcorders with the increased capacity and functionality that business organizations need.

It runs user-friendly FocalPoint software can help your organization more simply and securely organize, play, and share videos.

Because this is a new video collaboration solution, a video description of the new solution is appropriate.
